OUR DAY.

The 20th Annual Gathering was held in the Woodford Baptist Church, (kindly lent for the occasion) when a large number of old and new friends gathered and a magnificent time of uplift and encouragement was experienced. In the absence through illness, of Mr. A. T. Crabtree, of Wanstead, who was announced to preside, the chair was taken by Mr. Herbert White. Many letters of regret were received from well-wishers who could not be present, including Mr. Victor Levett, Mr. George Goodman, the Rev. J. W. Ewing, D.D., Rev. John Jermyn, Rev. Ronald Williams, Mrs. W. H. Maynard of Wimbledon, Miss M. Burdett, Mr. F. R. Archer, Mr. Charles Linder, J.P., Mr. Richard Cadbury J.P., and Rev. A. H. Carter. Following the opening prayer by the Mayor of Bermondsey solos and choruses were rendered by the children of the Home, who had again been trained by Mr. W. G. Fisher.

Miss Hutchin then spoke a few words of gratitude for the way God had watched over the Home during the past year and said how the Home realised the truth of St. Paul's assurance "My God shall supply all your needs according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus" which had been abundantly proved for the 20th year and that we were able to praise God for freedom from debt.

Dr. F. A. Martin Flegg, our Hon. Medical Officer, reported on the health of the children which he said had been very good on the whole, but there had been a few cases of scarlet fever and influenza and measles of a mild type. This had been the first year that we had ever had a case of scarlet fever and fortunately these four cases were not serious.

The Chairman, in giving the 20th Report, said: "I do feel as year by year goes round our Annual Gatherings should and must be gatherings of praise to God for all His goodness in allowing us to carry on such a work as this. Twenty years ago many people thought and said it was but a nine days' wonder, but for 20 years we have plodded on slowly but surely, not appealing to people to assist us, but just asking God and we have found Him to be the one who never fails. I remember hearing that Dr. Jowett at the close of one of his sermons in Westminster Chapel said, "For the past 40 minutes I have been endeavouring to introduce you to my friend the Lord Jesus Christ—I have failed Him thousands of times, but He has never failed me once." We who know and love Him can say Amen to that. We are very thankful for the good health that prevails in the Home and especially among the workers. It is wonderful how God keeps Miss Hutchin the mother in such good health and strength, also Auntie (Miss F. Hutchin) who is now over 80 years of age and still brightens our Home by her presence. Miss Lawrence, who was with us some time back as a worker and had to leave on account of illhealth, has now returned and Miss Edith Jones of Woodford has become a new and useful helper. The number of children has been well maintained. We have 65 boys and girls now resident with many other cases waiting to come in.

"We have also much to praise God for in the way our needs have been supplied. You will see from our audited accounts our total receipts were the largest we have had, so that we have been enabled once again to cope with the rising prices and carry forward into the new year a balance of £46. We are greatly encouraged, too, by the continued sympathetic interest of Dr. Flegg our Hon. Medical Officer, Mr. A. W. Willis our Hon. Dentist and Mr. A. Wilmott our Hon. Auditor, also our working parties and boot clubs, and for the parcels they have sent. Our Diary also shows many other gifts in clothes and kind which call for our gratitude and praise. We specially thank God for the friend who continues to send the fish, fresh from market in a box containing 4 stone each Tuesday and Thursday, pays carriage and allows us to keep the box for firewood."

Mrs. Florence Barclay, the well-known authoress, gave a telling address based on the words, "There is a lad here which hath five barley loaves and two small fishes." God's great things she said so often acted in conjunction with our little things. A little lad or a little maid present might have the potential possibilities for working in conjunction with God to meet some of the great needs of the world. In sympathetic terms she paid a glowing tribute to the work that was being done in the Home where not only were the physical needs of the children provided for, but their spiritual needs also. In earnest simple faith the guides and leaders of this Home were seeking to carry out the Master's injunction "Bring them hither to me."

Both before and after Mrs. Barclay's address Madame Annie Ryall gave sweet solos which were also greatly appreciated.

The Rev. John Haydon, the president of the Eastern Group of Baptist Churches, said they all heartily and unfeignedly rejoiced in the work of the Homes, which was not only relieving some of the worst suffering, but he thought one of the greatest needs of the present time was for some convincing witness to be given to their fellow men of the reality of spiritual facts and forces and such witness was being daily given in connection with the work of the Home which had been carried on now for 20 years by simple faith in God.

Mr. James Stokes, of Leytonstone, gave an inspiring message, in the course of which he said: When Mr. White invited me to address this meeting, he said he wanted a talk that was brief, bright and brotherly. As to the brotherliness, there is, I am glad to say, no doubt whatever, for I rejoice greatly this evening in the knowledge of his friendship and also in the fellowship of those present, knowing that we are all brothers and sisters in Christ. Whenever I think of this work I am reminded of the words of the Master "Whosoever would compel thee to go one mile go with him twain". It seems that in this expression we have in a summarised form the sum total of our Lord's message to the world, pre-eminently He came to teach us to go the "other mile". The sorry part of it all is that so many people professing the name of Christ are not willing to do this. It is this that the world is waiting for, not for more preaching, but for a more practical exhibition of Christian doctrine manifest in the lives of those who are willing to go the "other mile." To understand these words of the Master we need to remember that the idea He expresses is of Persian origin and referred to the postal system of that country—part of that system was that the person carrying the message had authority should he lose his way or get into difficulty, to press into service anyone whom he may meet to go with him and assist him in accomplishing his task and so Christ uses this figure and emphasizes the lesson that Christians are not merely to do their duty or what they are compelled to do by the state, we are to do that and more, we are to go the "other mile." How often we hear the remark "I always pay my way", "My house is well kept", "My children are well fed and educated," "I am a good citizen." That may be, but after all it is only one's duty to see that these things are so, but Christ would have us go further still. He did not merely come to teach us to be good citizens but to be good Christians and there is a vast difference between the two. The good Christian is the one that goes the "other mile" and that means the way of sacrifice, but it's worth it for the way of sacrifice is always the way of nobleness. It is Christ's way. We have all heard of that young medical student who some fifty or sixty years ago while passing through the dismal streets of the East End saw some poor little children ill-clad and hungry and taking a room for them cared for and clothed them and to-day we are all familiar with the great block of buildings in Stepney Causeway known as Dr. Barnardo's Homes. Why did he do this? He was considered a good citizen before he took pity on those little outcasts, quite so but Dr. Barnardo was more than a good citizen, he was a good Christian and those Homes are Dr. Barnardo's "other mile". We think of John Howard and his splendid work for the reform of the Prison system of his day. Many no doubt thought his endeavours misdirected energy, but he was a good Christian and the Prison Reform which came about was John Howard's "other mile". I wonder if we as Christians are endeavouring to follow in the footsteps of these great men. How sad it is that so often when we as professing Christians go through the world we are not known as followers of Christ, there seems to be so little distinction between us when there ought to be a great noticeable difference. There would be if we were all going the "other mile". Just over 20 years ago this work was started and to-day we all know the Children's Homes at South Woodford. Many people who looked on in those early days thought the founders of this home mad, but we know better to-day and these bright faced children on the platform and the Homes in Crescent Road are our friends' "other mile". As I said at the commencement it was our great Master who uttered these words. He himself is the great outstanding example of how to go the "other mile". You remember the scene in Gethsemane's Garden what a colossal struggle it was. Listen to His prayer "O my Father, if it be possible let this cup pass from me," but no answer broke the silence of that dread hour, the reason was it was not possible—the cup could not pass and on the Cross of Calvary our Master gave out His life. Let me say it reverently, the Cross was Christ's "other mile" and by it our redemption was secured. My friends, the appeal of that Cross is that we also in our giving, in our service, in our whole life shall follow Christ and go the "other mile".

Prayer by the Rev. Percy Hicks, B.D., brought our memorable meeting to a close.

BERTRAM MCGAHEY.

Our readers will remember that one of our old boys, Pte. Bertram McGahey who was in the 1/6 Essex in Egypt and that on the 17th October, 1917, he was killed in action. In his will he left half his money to his sister (who also is an old girl) and half to me as the head of the Home. On the 8th April, 1918, we received £4 3s 9d, and on the 17th Nov., 1919, £4 15s. od., making a total of £8 18s. 9d, and we think it would be nice to devote this amount to the following object.

For some time past we have been in great need of a Hall or Hut to be used as a "Dining and Play Hall" which would be more healthy for our children and would enable us to use other rooms for sleeping and so afford an opportunity in this way of assisting more of the very needy cases now before us. After seeking advice and counsel of an old friend about this important step our hearts were gladdened in April, by the receipt of a cheque of £100 to be used for this or as we thought best.

We would therefore seek the prayers of our friends that God may reveal His will to us and that D.V. we may be able to rejoice in this enlargement for His glory, and that by our 21st Annual next May, we may have our

"BERTRAM MCGAHEY HALL."

OBJECTS OF THE WORK.

1. To receive destitute and motherless children.
2. To be the means in God's hands of bringing the children to know the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour.
3. To prove that God is able to answer prayer by appealing to Him alone for funds.

Kilmacollm, "The enclosed P.O. 10/- is from a box collection for your Homes." Royston, "The receipt of your report brings to mind—The faithfulness of our covenant keeping God—and you seem to have learnt as

"The birds without barn or storehouse are fed,

From them we may learn to trust for our bread,

His saints what is fitting—shall ne'er be denied,

So long as 'tis written—The Lord will provide."

The enclosed £1 is another token of sympathy with you and yours. Trusting you are all well and that if the Lord tarry you may be led forward with your desired object—To tell the message straight and plain—Christ receiveth sinful men."

30th. From a Leytonstone Bible Class, £1/1/0½. Leytonstone, "Once more it is my privilege and joy to forward the enclosed £4, the result of my farthing collection. It is needless to say how I wish it were more, but being placed a widow with very limited means I cannot contribute as I would like to do. . . Praying continually God's blessing to rest upon your splendid work. With Christian love to you and all your workers." Wood Green, £1. 10th. Worcester, "I have many times heard about your work, because one of your collectors is a member of my Bible Class. At Xmas some of my elder girls went out "Carol Singing" for the benefit of poor children and they feel with myself it would be acceptable to send £1 on to your needy family. . . I know oft times the work is difficult and the training of young lives very responsible and sometimes you see such little result at the time, but thank God our labour for Him is never in vain, and if we cast our bread upon the waters we shall find it "After many days." May God richly bless your noble efforts in seeking to rescue these poor destitute children whose lives might otherwise have been ruined and sad."
