“The Lord Reigneth”
“Have faith in God”
“Hitherto hath the Lord helped us”

These are the three texts on the front of our Home. You will notice on our Annual Day Mr. Caley gave us another one from 2 Chron. 25-9. “The Lord is able to give thee much more than this.” This indeed was prophetic as not only has the amount due on the New Hall been cleared off, but we have real joy in inviting you to a special Dedication Service on January 3rd, 1931, at 3 o'clock, when a tablet will be unveiled by Mrs. Marsh as follows:—

These four houses are dedicated to the Glory of God and the care of needy children in Memory of my beloved children who are with the Lord. F. E. Marsh, D.D. January, 1931.

A special service in our Florence Barclay Memorial Hall will immediately follow. Chairman: Victor G. Levett Esq. and those taking part will be Dr. F. E. Marsh, Rev. L. C. Parkinson, M.A., Rev. D. H. Moore (East London Tabernacle) and Mr. Herbert White.

These Houses have been rented by us for 30 years and from January 3rd will be the property of the C. H. & M. Hallelujah! Please book the date and come with friends to our great Praise Meeting. Tea provided.

"OUR DAY"

AFTERNOON MEETING

TWO delightful meetings in the Woodford Baptist Church on Friday, June 6th, 1930, marked the celebration of the 30th year of the founding of the Children's Home and Mission. The Church was filled with a throng of old friends and supporters all bent on showing their appreciation of those engaged in the work, while the boys and girls ranged on the platform delighted all present with their singing.

MISS HUTCHIN, the Mother, in an earnest little speech expressed gratitude to God for all that He had enabled His servants to do during another year. This is a day of great rejoicing, she said. She had been looking back to those early days when first they ventured out at the call of God. They had not proved Him then as they had proved Him since. They had trusted Him, and He had more than answered their trust. Their faith had at times been small, but He had given them an abundance. Many of those present had been used as channels through which their many needs had been provided. Their first aim was to lead the boys and girls under their care to the Lord Jesus Christ; and they gathered together to praise God for all that He had done. Many of the boys and girls who had left the Home were testifying to the saving and keeping power of Christ. "May God richly bless us all to-day," said Miss Hutchin.

THE CHAIRMAN, Mr. Victor G. Levett, introduced the speakers, and, as he said, they were most anxious to hear those who were actually engaged in the work, and, therefore he had much pleasure in calling upon Mr. H. White to give them a record of the past year's work.

Mr. WHITE prefaced his report by saying they were most happy to have with them again the chairman, speakers and the soloist. The work was quite unsectarian and all real christians of any denomination were welcome to their platform. There will be no labels in heaven and so we want to start right here. The real test and the test that counted was whether we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ and were born again of His Spirit and if so then we were one in Christ Jesus. He was also glad to see such a good company of friends from near and far and was encouraged to know that the interest in the work was spreading and the prayer fellowship growing. They had hoped to have with them again Pastor H. T. Chilvers of the Metropolitan Tabernacle and Mr. Montague Goodman, but these were unable to come. Mr. J. J. Blundell, Rev. John Jermyn and others also were regretting their absence. Mr. Victor Levett, one of our oldest friends, we were glad to see again in the chair, in fact our Annual would not seem the same without him, and our brother Mr. Caley was indeed a welcome visitor. They had to face a difficulty in the fact that Dr. Flegg intimated that he was disposing of his practice, and that he could not continue with the medical oversight of the Home. Dr.

Flegg had been a great friend to them, and one whom they had all learned to love. Mr. White was glad to be able to announce that Dr. Flegg was remaining on as their hon. consulting physician.

Before calling upon Dr. Flegg to speak, an interesting little ceremony took place, Dr. Flegg being presented with a handsome clock, and Mrs. Flegg with a bouquet of roses. The Chairman said he could not speak too highly of Dr. Flegg's self-sacrificing, self-denying work. It was one thing to do a work for a year or two, but to keep it up for thirty years, and through good report and through ill report to stand by a work year in and year out for such a long period, was another thing.

Dr. FLEGG, speaking with some emotion, said that one very gratifying feature of Mr. White's work was that the health of his family had so wonderfully improved. He often wished that Mr. White would write a book on the way in which God answered prayer. Dr. Flegg thanked all present for their kindness.

THE REV. LEONARD B. CALEY, M.A. (Vicar of St. Annes, Nottingham) said: I knew this gathering would be the occasion of praise and thanksgiving to God for His goodness during the past twelve months; and when I was waiting upon God for His message for this meeting He led me to the 2nd Book of Chronicles the 25th chapter, and He gave me this 9th verse: "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this." Perhaps it may seem rather strange when we are gathered together to thank God for all that He has done for us, that we should remind ourselves of this fact. But we who know the Lord, when we come into His presence, we can accept His message for us and know that it is true. As I listened to Mr. White telling us about the work during the past year, my mind went back over those thirty years since first God called His servant to start this work, and one's heart is filled with gratitude to God for all that He has enabled His servant to accomplish.

Some of you will remember that our text is enshrined in a story which contains a great truth for God's people. This story is the story of the King of Judah, Amaziah; and when Amaziah had strengthened his kingdom, and had settled himself, then we are told that he began to face the facts that were before him; and the great fact he had to face was the fact of the Edomites, or the Children of Seir. Now who were these Edomites, these Children of Seir. They were the descendants of Esau, the man who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage, the man who chose to satisfy a present craving at the expense of his inheritance among the people of God, a man who chose the material rather than the spiritual. Those Edomites represented the forces of materialism who had withstood God's plan and purpose again and again. When these very people of God were coming out of Egypt, they wanted to pass through the land of Edom. They were just being led forth by God; a divine plan and purpose was being worked out, a plan and purpose that is going to be worked out through all eternity.

At that time they wanted to go through the Land of Edom, and they were refused a passage. They said, "We won't do any harm to your land. We will touch nothing." But they were refused passage. (Num. 20). Now Amaziah has to face the same enemy, and the same forces. And you and I who are here to-day have to face the same forces in our day and generation. We are not facing any different forces, but we are facing those same forces of materialism, of sin, disregard of God, and His purpose and His plan for the world. And the work of these Homes is part of that warfare; every piece of Christian work is part of that warfare, and the work that is carried out by these Homes year by year is part of that same warfare, in order that the plan and purpose of God may be worked out, and the forces that are working against God and His eternal plan and purpose, may be defeated. And as Amaziah faces this foe, he begins to look round to see how many he had got upon whom he could rely. He numbers his army and finds that he has three hundred thousand men; he did not think he had quite enough. So, what did he do? He looked across to the Kingdom of Israel, and he decided that he would ask them to help him. He hired an hundred thousand men to help him, and he paid them, and so he increased the size of his army. But what happens? A man of God comes to him with a very definite message. He said, "The Lord is not with Israel." Israel had disregarded their God; Israel had forgotten the commands of their God, and among these hundred thousand men who had been hired for an hundred talents of silver, there was a lack of faith in God; there was not an acknowledgment of Him. "The Lord is not with Israel."

Who were these Israelites? I want you to realise who they were. They were the people of the Lord; they were those who had covenant relationship with God; they were those who were numbered amongst God's people. But now, added, as they were, to this army of Amaziah's they were a source of weakness. There is a tremendously solemn truth here for every Christian man. God's people who lack faith in Him, God's people who are disregarding and dishonouring Him through any lack of trust in Him, they are a source of weakness to the cause of God. They were not heathen; they were not some crowd of mercenaries that Amaziah had hunted round for and got together; they were of the same kith and kin, they were also the covenant people of God; but they had just lost their trust in God, and the Lord was not with them.

Unconsecrated Christians, unconsecrated servants of God are a source of weakness to-day in the fight against materialism and sin. The Lord is not with them. And so Amaziah could not go to the battle in league with them. What about the loss that he would sustain? Was there to be no result for all that he had planned? It seemed so foolish to make those hundred men go away, and then to have to go forward with the forces he knew were quite useless for the job. But God had to teach this king a lesson, which He has also to teach you and me, a lesson which has been learned again and again through these thirty years in these Homes in Woodford; that "the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men."

God has done great things that we never have expected, and the impossible has become possible because we have trusted God. God has a great lesson to teach us, and the lesson is this, it is trust in Him. I wonder if we have all trusted in Him. After all, God can do all things; He can supply all things. But God can do something more. We see what He did for the world as we gaze upon the Cross at Calvary. He provided a Saviour from sin. The greatest problem in life is not—what shall we eat, or drink? But it is this, How can a man be just with God? And there is only one way. Trust in God's finished work. We do thank and praise God for all that He has done. Do we know each one of us in this Church, that our own Christian life is just this and nothing else:

"Simply trusting every day,
Trusting through a stormy way.
Even though my faith is small Trusting Jesus, that is all."

Oh, let everything else go, if necessary. "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this." And Amaziah was a wise man, for he accepted God's message. And the wise man is the one who accepts God's message. Mr. Bruce Flegg brought us a message when he sang, "Oh, for a closer walk with God!" Trusting God; nothing else matters. Is it not the desire of everyone in this gathering here to-day that as the outcome of our meetings to-day we may go away having been brought nearer to our God, praying that prayer,

"Oh, for a closer walk with God,
A calm and heavenly frame;
A light that shines upon the road
That leads me to the Lamb."

And if so, then we shall prove this, "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this." My people met together some time ago, and they said, "We must do something to the Church" for it was in a very bad condition. But we had no money to pay for the repairs; however, we prayed about it. Three days later a man said to me at one of our gatherings, "I will do up the Church for you before Christmas. And he did. It cost about £700. He did not attend the Church, and I have not seen him since. "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this." If we can just carry that message away from this gathering, it will help us, and the work will go forward.

Mr. Bruce Flegg rendered two beautiful solos and a very happy meeting ended with the Doxology.

ANNUAL REPORT

Mr. White said they rejoiced to be able to tell out what God had done for them in answer to believing prayer. During the year they had had many difficulties to face, but God had brought them through triumphantly—in fact all through the 30 years of their existence they had had daily tests and found as they took everything to God in prayer He undertook and delivered. They started with no funds, no committee, no influence but were determined to pray through and that during the whole of that time prayer had been answered and they believed that the God who had delivered, doth deliver and in whom we trust will yet deliver. Since the work commenced 457 boys and girls had been helped—They desired above all that spiritual blessing should come to them and during the year several still in the Home had yielded their hearts to the Lord Jesus Christ and it was a joy to realise that they would go out into the world as His servants. There were also a good number of old girls and boys who were now working for God in different parts of the world (see letters). One old girl with her husband, living near Ipswich, had opened their house for Gospel services, Sunday School and Women's Meeting, etc. and were now praying for a hut or a hall in which to hold their services. Quite a number of the old ones kept in touch with us and on Christmas and special occasions many came "Home." We started the year with 78 girls and boys, 21 had left us, three girls for Australia, five girls started out in service, two boys for work, one boy returned to father and five returned on account of father remarrying, 26 have been added, making at the end of the year 83 in the Home. The Day's School reports show improvement in most cases and in their Annual Sunday School scripture examination one of our girls received 100 per cent. marks, wits honors and first prize—One passed with honors, 7 first class certificates and 13 second class.

In speaking of some of the wonderful answers to prayer Mr. White said it was a joy to realise that God just moved the hearts of people in various places as will be seen by the Diary, reminding them of the need of the Home—For instance during the Christmas week we had been praying for three turkeys and had arrived at Christmas Eve with no sign of turkey coming. At 4-30 however, a friend came by road all the way from Colchester and brought one turkey. This called for praise to God and prayer for two more, and at 5 o'clock our bell rang again and a friend, whom we did not know, and had never seen before, called in a saloon car. He said that some time since he had heard of the work and had been praying for us and so far his prayers had crystallised into action so he had brought two large bottles of sweets for the children. After asking a few questions about the work, just before getting into his car, looking up to our four houses, he said "When did you have any paint on your houses last?" The reply was "Now you are not going to pull my leg on your first visit are you?" to which he replied "No! I want to help you and if you will let me, God willing, I will send my men in the New Year and paint up your houses." Nothing more was heard about turkeys until 9.30 Christmas Eve, when this friend returned and stated that on his way home after calling here in the afternoon he had to go through Ilford and he felt led to go in to a certain shop and in conversation with the manageress told her he wanted to buy some pastries for an orphanage, whereupon she made him up a big basket and asked him to take them with her love to the children and then just as he was leaving, the managing director of this big firm (they have many branches) happened to come in, when in conversation our friend asked the prices of two big turkeys he saw hanging up in the shop and the reply was "Half price to you, but, what do you want these for?" On being told, he said, "Well take these with my love," and so at 9-30 this new friend brought in the pastries and two turkeys having paid nothing for them and said to me "I hope

I have done right" and was greatly moved when I told him that our special prayer for turkeys was now answered with pastries thrown in.

Again our old Oakland motor car that we used for the villages and Abridge etc. was worn out and all we could obtain for same was 30/- for old iron. As we could obtain for same was 80/- for old iron. As one. One night towards the end of the year we had a telephone message from over 30 miles away asking whether we would accept their Wolseley Car and this arrived on the 1st of the New Year.

The working parties and boot funds have again been a great help to us. The fish continues to come twice a week. The proceeds from the Harvest Festivals from the neighbouring churches and halls have again greatly encouraged us and we can indeed raise our Ebenezer to date.

You will see also from the Audited accounts that after paying all expenses we again had a small balance to start our New Year with. For these and all Thy mercies O Lord we praise Thee.

EVENING MEETING

Charles Wesley's inspiring hymn:—

"O for a thousand tongues to sing

My great Redeemer's praise."—

with a hearty singing of which the evening meeting opened, quite obviously expressed the feelings of the large audience that had gathered to hear still more concerning the Children's Home and its beneficent work. Prayer was offered by Mr. Peter Morris, who voiced the thanks of all present for the wonderful way in which God had strengthened the faith of those engaged in the work and given them tokens of His blessing.

Mr. HERBERT WHITE said it was a great joy to welcome such a fine company on this "Our Day" and praised God for the great encouragement it gave all who were labouring in the work the year round. We welcome too our chairman, a new friend—Mr. Stanley Kirkness, although an old friend to Woodford, and thank him for presiding at the gathering this evening. Also Dr. N. Beattie of Ilford whom we shall listen to with great delight. The Rev. L. C. Parkinson, the much loved pastor of this church, will also give a message, and our old friend Mr. Arthur Mathews. We have with us too our new Medical Officer, Dr. David Smith, who has offered his services in answer to prayer and he will follow with his report.

Dr. DAVID SMITH, having explained that he had the sacred task of looking after the health of the children, read an appropriate passage of Scripture (Ex. xvi. 23-26), which ends with the words, "I am the Lord that healeth thee." He went on to say that he had a very short report to give of the health of the children, because their health had been wonderfully good. During the past year there had been 4 cases of measles amongst the more than 80 children in the Home; whilst in almost every house with children in South Woodfrd there were cases of measles from January to March. Other cases included: 1 of chicken-pox, 5 of tonsillitis, 4 or 5 of bruises and falls, 8 of abscesses and glands of the neck, 6 of skin trouble.

He was accustomed to call at the Home once or twice a week to see if there was anything to do and was almost on the unemployment list, so far as the Home was concerned. One thing that impressed him was the great care which was taken by the workers of the Home to prevent the spread of infection there. The children who came to the Home had to be examined by the doctor before they were admitted, and they were isolated for a fortnight before being allowed to mix with the other children. Even, despite this precaution, nearly all the infectious diseases he had mentioned had been brought in by new children. He had been surprised at the prompt attention given to the children when any of them fell sick. On such occasions Mr. White sent for the doctor immediately. Most of the children would, he felt sure, agree that they liked being sick, for they received such a great deal of loving care in the sick-room.

The doctor gave one practical instance of the concern shown about the children's health by the workers in the Home. Soon after he started his medical visits there, he was called to a case which he thought might possibly be a case of diphtheria. He took a swab, and when he came out of the room with it he found Mr. White and Miss Hutchins looking quite pale and very much upset about the case. Mr. White took the swab up to London to get it examined, and it turned out to be a dud. The reason I tell you that, continued Dr. Smith, is to show you that the workers in the Home are really concerned about the health of the children. What is the secret of their health? One reason is their simple and regular meals. They are not allowed sweets or things of that kind between meals. Secondly, the care and attention of the workers for the sick children; and that is due to the good training of Dr. Flegg in past years. Finally I attribute the good health of the children to the good hand of God upon us—the One who has said, "I am the Lord that healeth thee."

THE CHAIRMAN expressed his pleasure at being present at the 80th annual meeting of the Home. The Church in which they were met was sacred ground to him. As a boy, one Sunday he walked up the gravel path and got into the back of the church, and was immediately put into a class. His Sunday school teacher was Mr. Lomax, who erected part of the building. Subsequently he was put into another class, and finally into the Bible class. The Bible class leader, he was thankful to say, was alive to-day, and five of those who were boys at that Sunday school were present with them that evening. It is very nice, added Mr. Kirkness, to find myself in that old spot.

Dr. N. BEATTIE, in his opening words, said he was very glad to be there to meet Mr. White and to hear the brief account of his work, and listen to the happy songs of the children. Then, as the basis of a thoughtful address, he chose 1 Thess. 1:3: "Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ." The work of faith, he pointed out, was of primary importance in all Christian effort. Mr. White would never have begun the work of that Home, had he not first of all begun in faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. There were many people who launched out into Christian service, and really it was questionable whether they had begun aright. To be successful in the best and highest sense, Christian work must be a work of faith. True faith always produced good works and Christian character, and led to exploits for God, and these were a labour of love, love that was shed in the heart by the Holy Spirit.

What better illustration of that could they have than they had before them that evening? The friends conducting that Home gathered together those children who had need, and they did that because of their love to Christ who died on the Cross for them. It was a labour of love for Him and for those whom He loved. The task they had undertaken was not always an easy one; but they did not feel it irksome, because they did it under the constraint of love. As a recompense they had no need to seek reward from man; that reward was already laid up for them.

Work of faith leading to labour of love culminated in glorious hope. The apostle spoke of the patience of hope. Those who did the work of that Home had a vision. In sowing a garden with seeds there was nothing to be seen but toil and expenditure and thought. But the gardener knew that the time would come when that garden would blossom as a thing of beauty, and rejoice his heart. Their friends had already seen something of the results that had accrued to their sowing of the "good seed" in the hearts of those children. How that must give patience now in order that still more glorious results might follow. They were told to "be patient unto the coming of the Lord." That was the great thing that kept them from pessimism; it was an anchor of the soul.

In his closing remarks Dr. Beattie said: We rejoice, Mr. White, with you in this noble labour of love which you are carrying on for the Master. May you be given strength still to carry it on, looking for the time when He shall come, and then you will receive the "Well done, good and faithful servant." And for us, may we in our little way seek to do our bit, beginning with the work of faith, and continuing in the labour of love and the patience of hope, the patience of Christ, and waiting until He shall come. May God bless you all, and bless all those little ones connected with this beautiful Home.

THE REV. L. C. PARKINSON, M.A. spoke of the inestimable privilege it was, as minister of that church, to have the Children's Home in any way associated with it. Mr. White was formerly one of his deacons and still remained in membership with them. He was now pastor of a church at Abridge, and having in addition all the burdens of the Home on his shoulders, they could not expect from him all the time, he would give if he were not so heavily burdened in other ways. It was a joy to have many of the children there on Sunday, and to have Mr. White and Miss Hutchin associated with their church work; because it stood out as an object lesson to them as a church as to what God would do and give them through those who wholly trusted Him. It was also a wonderful object lesson throughout that neighbourhood, and one that God was constantly blessing.

One indirect tribute to the Home, uttered by someone who knew the boys and girls fairly intimately was next referred to by Mr. Parkinson. That particular friend was attending some lectures on Psychology, and in the course of those lectures a remark was made about the difference between a Home and an Institution. It was said that the one great feature that characterised the Home was that it gave to the children of the Home a sense of security and love; whereas in some of those big public Institutions that sense of security and love was missing. The friend who attended that lecture made this remark. That accounts for the difference between the children of White's Home and the children we know from those more public Institutions. The children of that Home always impress me with the fact that they have that very sense of security, that they are surrounded by an atmosphere of love. It meant that the Children's Home was a Home where the children were surrounded by an abiding sense of security and by an abiding experience of love. That was one thing they thanked God for in connection with the Children's Home.

What was the secret of the fact that during the past year God had provided for the needs of those boys and girls and the work of the Home? On the previous Sunday morning he had the privilege of giving up the whole of the service to the young people, and he spoke to them about the wonderful exploit of David and Goliath. He asked, What was the secret whereby David was able to overcome Goliath, and Saul was not? Saul was the biggest fellow in the whole army, and yet Saul was impotent and could not overcome. David, a little stripling, was able to go out and overcome the giant. What was the reason? Sometimes he thought it would be a wonderful thing if photography could develop to such an extent that they were able to take spiritual photographs. If he took a spiritual photograph of those two men, they would see the difference between them, because they would see Another standing beside David in league with him. He would like to have taken a spiritual photograph of Mr. White, and they would see that same Presence standing beside him. That was the only secret whereby he and those associated with him were able to carry on the work of that Home.

There were two verses, both beginning with the word "Whatsoever," which told the secret of that work. The first was spoken by our Lord—"Whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do." That unseen Presence who was ever standing by the friends who carried on that Home, was always whispering to them, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do." Why was He whispering that word to them? Because of another word—"Whatsoever ye do, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus."—Thirty years ago those friends who undertook that work pledged themselves that in life and conduct and ambition they would do it in the name of the Lord Jesus, and from that time the Lord Jesus had taken His stand with them. The Lord was with Mr. and Mrs. White and Miss Hutchin and their fellow workers, and as long as the Lord was with them, so long would that Home remain as a blessed testimony to the faithfulness of God.

ARTHUR MATHEWS, Esq., J.P., opened a brief but very heartening address with the remark that he was glad to be there if only to hold the hand of Mr.

Stanley Kirkness. Then it was nice, he proceeded, when some of them who were boys with Herbert White in the olden days, came back and showed their interest in and sympathy with the work which Mr. and Mrs. White and Miss Hutchin and other friends were doing on behalf of the young people there. When at any time they were cast down and they thought of the work and its results, they could not but feel cheered. It was a noble example that those friends were setting and he said "Thank you" to all of them. He also expressed his thanks to the chairman for coming to show his interest in the Home, to Rev. L. C. Parkinson and the deacons of the church for having lent the building to hold the meeting in, to Dr. Beattie who had come from Ilford to speak to them, to Dr. Smith for his interesting report, and to Mr. Bruce Flegg for his beautiful singing.

Children were a great asset, declared Mr. Mathews. It was impossible to tell what any of those boys and girls might become. There might be some really great souls among them, some who might soar to tremendous heights, whilst others would live their humble life. But if in every case they grew up to be good citizens, God-fearing men and women, the work carried on by Mr. White and those who helped him would not have been done in vain.

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS

An old girl writes:—It is a long time since I wrote you, but we have thought of you and your work daily in our prayers. Our children are quite big now and a real blessing to us. Our eldest boy is 10 years old. Perhaps one day we will be able to pay you another visit. I still have happy recollections of the time I came 11 years ago. Am enclosing just a small gift. It is not a lot, but every penny helps with such a large family.

Another girl writes:—My sister and I are comfortable and living with quite a christian lady and we can truly say how good God has been to us.....We ever remember you regarding the work at Abridge and the Home and enclose £5, just a little, with gratitude for all you have done for us.

A boy in Canada writes:—Thank you for copy of Links. I saw the photo of the Hall. How much different now than when I saw it last. Sorry I have not written sooner, but have been working from daylight to dark.....We go to church in an Overland saloon car every Sunday morning (about 5 miles). I suppose the children will be having their excursion soon. I enclose 5 dollars towards it and hope you'll have a good time. Love to all at home.

Another girl writes:—I wonder if you remember me.....Although I failed when I first left the Home I shall never forget what I was taught when with you. I must tell you that I am now really converted and am trying to please the Lord day by day. I will try and come and see you soon. Goodnight and God bless you.

A young couple in Australia, who were both in the Home write:—We are just writing to let you see we have not forgotten you, and enclose 10/-. It will be Christmas by the time you get this and we wish you all a very happy one. We miss the happy times we spent with you. It does not seem the same out here. Its two years since we left home and I often wonder how long before we see you all again..... How you must all miss Dr. Flegg. He was always so very kind wasn't he? Remember us to him if you see him.....May God abundantly bless you all. From your loving old boy and girl.

An old boy writes:—Just to let you know how I am faring in Canada and to thank you for all you did for me while under your care. I am getting along fine. Am working on a hundred acre farm. I attend Sunday School regularly and attend church every two weeks. Our Pastor looks after four churches so he visits us every fortnight. All of us boys owe our chance of success in this country to the care you gave us. Scarcely a day passes but what we are reminded in some way of the value of the patient and painstaking training you gave us in the old land. I realise that this was done in a truly christian spirit for we often gave you cause for disappointment, but trust that you will now realise that it was not all in vain. Every day I find myself humming, singing or whistling some of the things I was taught in the old home, and I do miss prayers and the choruses and also the happy time we used to have at Christmas. Hoping to hear from you soon. I remain a grateful old boy.

Another boy writes:—I am writing to let you know that I am still alive and well and also that you are still in my thoughts. Am thankful to say I have not had a day out of employment since I left school and I must thank Somone greater than my good fortune for this. I find it difficult sometimes not to worry in case I should fall out of work, but whenever I remember how I have been protected in the past I am able to stop worrying at once.

An old girl writes:—We have started a Sunday School and evening service in our little home. Last week we had just over 40 children. We thank God for all of them and pray that we may be able to lead them into His loving arms. How glad we are that He has opened our eyes and is teaching us step by step to trust Him. We thank you for the inspiration you have given us. It does teach us such a lot to see others trusting and the results by trusting. May the Lord prosper your good work in His name.

A further letter states:—We are grateful for your prayers as we feel the power. We had a wonderful time last Wednesday at the prayer meeting. About 30 gathered with us pleading before the Lord for a piece of land and we feel sure the Lord will send this money along. He has strengthened our faith in several ways.

An old boy writes:—Just a few lines to let you know I am getting on all right and just to thank you for all you've done for me. I am on a 400 acre farm. If any of your boys think they are hard worked let them come here. I got 9 blisters the first day I was here.

Our friends will notice that at the end of last April we still had £200 owing to the builder but we are happy to say before going to print this money has been received in 13 donations and we are praising God that every penny of the £2,250 is now paid to the builder. Hallelujah!
